THE TRIUMPHS OF ELECTRICITY. The advancing strides which have been made by science in almost every direction within the last half century are simply marvelous. Man has come inventions next year women inventors to handle the most dangerous and pow. are to have a place and are specially erful forces in nature as if they were invited to exhibit. the most harmless playthings. makes them his servants, obedien his touch and subservient to the trolling force of his individual It is less than forty years since the experiments of Morse, in the direct of telegraphic communication, made and the first line of telegraph erected between Washington and timore, a distance of forty miles. the 29th of May, 1844, the news of nomination of Mr. Polk was sent to National Capital from the Me mental City over the wires of magnetic telegraph - the first patch ever so transmitted. This e marked the beginning of a new era the history of the world's civilization. It practically annihilated distance, and ushered in the beginning of the day which sees nations speaking across the seas, and the tidings of events transpiring on the other side of the Atlantic-each important event of every passing day-reaching us before the day's close. But new achiev ments are continually being reache and among the latest of these tr

thus described by the Sun: A dispatch of that length [three thousand words] is cut up into seven parts, or takes, as copy is given out to printers. These are transferred by seven operators to cylinders, which are set simultaneously in motion, and transmit the message over one wire. The company claims it can send eight and receive eight dispatches at the two wires in use between here and Cleveland are steel, heavily insulated in copper. The in copper. The poles are thirty feet high, of unusual size and strength, WM. LACY, forty of them to the mile. It is claimed the wires are of such supreme conductivity that the electric current on them will not be disturbed by storms these improvements will bring Chicago Capt. A. H. Wilcox, Capt. A. H. Wilcox, Philadelphia, and San Francisco as near as Cleveland compared with the Capt. A. H. Wilcox, J. F. Crank, J. E. Hollenbeck, H. Mabury. and atmospheric changes. They claim near as Cleveland compared with the best wire now in use.

It is claimed that two wires oper ated by this new system will do more than sixty wires supplied with the Morse instruments. The system appears to be measurably a combination of telegraphic and telephonic principles, and the value of the results are beyond any heretofore attained in the experiments of electric science.

SAN FRANCISCO is acting on the wise principle that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." In view of the large attendance and crowded condition of some of her public school buildings, and the possible emergencies in case of fire, she has wisely introduced the fire-drill into her schools, and it is stated that such adepts have the children become in this that one building, accommodating six hundred pupils, can be emptied in half a minute. This drill is excellent practice for the children, educating them in habits of coolness and prompt action in the face of danger, and it should be introduced into the schools throughout the State. The danger arising from panic among the children in case of fire is usually greater than from the fire itself. Without question the recent terrible "slaughter of the innocents" in New York city might have been largely, if not entirely, prevented had this drill obtained among them sufficiently to have enabled them to have left the building in a prompt and orderly manner, But crazed with fright, and maddened with the sense of danger, they rushed pell-mell from the school room, crowding, pushing, struggling, precipitated down the broken stairway, and dying without the touch of fire upon them. Children can be trained, as well as their elders, to act with coolness in the face of danger, and there is no lesson taught BICKEYE MOWERS, DEETES Plows, in our public schools more important for them to learn than this.

DID Wiggins's storm ever come? will always remain one of the questions unanswered. Wiggins says it came, as he predicted, and so it did in some places and to some extent. But the most ignorant of us might safely predict storms in the month of March, for March is a stormy month. Wiggins may have relied upon this fact alone as a basis of his predictions, or he may have had good scientific reasons, de rived from close observation and study, for expecting that this would be an unusually stormy month. But if he was seeking to warn the world of danger, and not for a little cheap notoriety as is generally supposed, he should have told why the unusually stormy weather was to be expected. This would have taken away the savor of hoax which invested the matter from the first, and have placed Wiggins before the world in a much less odious

Among the many evidences healthy prosperity of which Los Angeles can boast is the activity of building operations, the steady upward tendency of real estate, the plentifulness of the money market, the steady increase in her population, the growth in her industrial resources, the cheerful tone of her business community, and, in spite of the somewhat reduced rainfall, the reasonably fair outlook for her agricultural interests All of these things are hopeful in-dices for the future, and should be fficient to make us look forward th assurance to the coming year as ing and Lecturing. NEWHALL, March 12.-Newhall is now enjoying the wave of prosperity that has een sweeping over Southern California for the past year. There is quite a boom in lots, and many have recently been sold. Buildings are being erected very fast, and most of them of a substantial character. A special car from the East, here a few days ago in the interest of containing a party of railroad men, was B the proposed narrow gauge road from Newhall to Hueneme, on the coast rumor has it that the road is soon to be commenced. Without taking into consideration the reat natural advantages of soil and climate, the prospects of this place, with its oil fields, hydraulic mines and broad grain fields are cer-tainly good, and if we are to have the terminus of the narrow guage system of roads running down the coast it will surely be an important business centre. Oil men, hydraulic miners and speculators may be seen daily on our streets, and where once the wild coyote roamed at will, and his dismal yell alone broke the stillness of the night, the shriek of the iron horse is heard and a dozen en gines on the surrounding hills re-echo back its sound from the oil wells. When ardy band of pioneers across the San nando pass in the winter of '46, little dreamed that thirty rears later he would ride over the same ground in a palace car, and thus it is that the future of great towns is laid, first in the wilderness, and then by American pluck and energy suddenly by American pluck and energy suddenly transformed into thriving cities. Newhall enjoys the pleasure of hearing a sermon every Sunday evening from Rev Mr. Armstrong, of Los Angeles, but so long have the people of this vicinity dwelt in the wilderness, it seems almost impossible to arouse them to a proper sense of the awful peril in which they stand; that is, according to the orthodox Methodist standpoint. They they stand; that is, according to the orthodox Methodist standpoint. They

Is It a Hoax? To the Editor of the Times-SIR: In the Alta California of Monday appears the following:

"The electroscope has now proved it possible," says the Scientific American of February 24th, "to convey by means of electricity vibrations of light—to not only speak to your distant friend, but actually to see him." Dr. Guidrah, of actually to see him." Dr. Guidrah, of Victoria, Australia, is the ingenious inventor of this instrument, which is the very latest discovery, and truly wonderful in its action. It was first privately tried at Melbourne on the 31st of October last, in the presence of over forty CORN—Is a trifle steadier. California is quotable at $1.70½ 175 gr. the higher figures being for No. 1 grades.

HAY—Receipts were somewhat liberal this morning, but prices were not disturbed. We quote as follows: Alfalfa, $18.50@20; Wheat, $20@21.25; Wild Oat, $20@21.25; Mixed, $18.50.

ful in its action. It was first privately tried at Melbourne on the 31st of October last, in the presence of over forty scientific and public officers, and proved a great success. Sitting in a dark room, they saw projected on a large disc of white burnished metal the race course at Kensington, with its myriad hoats of active beings. Each minute detail stood out with perfect lifelike fidelity to the original then going on so far away, and as they looked at the wonderful active pictures through binocular glasses it was difficult to magine that they were not actually on the course itself and moving among those whose actions they could so completely scan.

In this age of wonderful inventions we need be surprised at nothing; businely in this case the Scientific American and the Alta have be more paper. It was named the gastrograph, and a detailed account of its first trial, extending to several columns, exceedingly readable and entirely convincing, appeared in a leading Melbourne paper. It was claimed for the gastrograph, that it could transmit the essence of the most recherche kinner to any distance by electric wires, and at the experiment a number of the savants and leading public men of Melbourne were represented as sitting in a hall, each with the end of a delicately adjusted gastrograph in his mouth, which was connected by wite with a representation of the gastrograph in the could transmit the essence of the most recherche kinner to any distance by electric wires, and at the experiment a number of the savants and leading public men of Melbourne were represented as sitting in a hall, each with the end of a delicately adjusted gastrograph in this two could be considered to the food without any of its dross. speedily exhibited the usual symptoms that follow a liberal consumption of that seductive and exhilerating fluid. The wonders of the telephone had sorrusted the wakeful sense of innereducility that the story was swallowed implicitly by thousands, and it was actually copied into a number of scientific journals throughout the world—if we mistake not, by this same Scientific American.

The author of the gastrograph, if still alive, is, in all probability, the author of the electroscope, which transmitted the scene of Kensington race-course, four miles distant, to a room in the city of Melbourne, and enabled the savants to witness the races through their binoculars as well as if they had been seated on the grand stand. It is bin to witness the races through their binoculars as well as if they had been seated on the grand stand. It is bin to witness the races through their binoculars as well as if they had been seated on the statement from the Otago Times, which gives it on the authority of an address delivered at Christotruchy, N. Z., by a Rev. Mr. Gilbert. The Alta has evidently also misspelt the name of the inventor, or it may be only a printer's error due to the bad type used by the San Francisco papers.
